Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Babylonia and Assyria: A Sketch of Their History I. The terms Ancient History and Modern History are relative ones. To us an occurrence of a hundred years ago is but as a tale of yesterday, while to a savage it would seem to belong to very ancient history, if it were not already pre-historic. Going back along the line of our own civilization we have been accustomed to halt at Israel, Greece, and Rome, and call the career of these nations ancient, as if beyond them there had been no history. But the discoveries of the past century in the valleys of the Euphrates and the Nile have shown that the records of these nations, though dealing with a time so far removed from our own, are yet but modern history compared with the story of Babylonia and Egypt. Even the Exodus which took place a century before Homers time, stands but midway between the present and the time of Sargon I.; and that ancient monarch stands but midway between the Exodus and the beginning of the history of his country.
