Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Human Temperaments, Vol. 1: Studies in Character Know then thyself, presume not God to scan; The proper study of Mankind is Man. Especially Woman, as a witty commentator has added. As Pope stole the whole of the shallow philosophy of his most celebrated essay from Bolingbroke, so he stole three-quarters of this, its most often quoted couplet, from others - half his first line from Pythagoras, and all the second from Warburton. From such a pilferer one would not expect much that is original, but the Essay contains one doctrine that is undoubtedly original with Pope, and it is also undoubtedly erroneous: the doctrine, once universally accepted and now almost forgotten, of the ruling passion. On different passions strike; Hence different passions more or less inflame, As strong or weak, the organs of the frame; And hence one Master Passion in the breast, Like Aaron's serpent, swallows up the rest. As Man, perhaps, the moment of his breath, Receives the lurking principle of death: So, cast and mingled with his very frame, The Mind's disease, its Ruling Passion came. It needs very little observation of human nature, very little of that proper study of mankind which the opening lines of the Second Epistle commend to us, to discover how hopelessly erroneous this doctrine is.
